Museum meeting

Plans for a new Museum-Library for Minden and area will proceed as a result of the public meeting held last Wednesday, at Archie Stoffer Public School.

A small group of concerned residents presented tentative plans and cost estimates to a group of 24 persons, some of whom were present as representatives of other bodies in the community.

The meeting was chaired by Ruth Gorrie, who had called the first meeting of the smaller group early in October. As a result of the meeting on October 27, a committee has been formed to carry the tentative plan to government agencies to inquire about financing and further planning.

The meeting on October 27 was called to assess public opinion and to determine whether or not new facilities were needed.

Following discussion, it was determined that there was sufficient support of the project to proceed.

The present library houses the county's largest circulation of books, 16,000 in all, in the county's smallest facilities, the meeting was told. There are 745 permanent members of the library and 648 seasonal. It was noted that the present library is actually depriving the community of services since it doesn't have the facilities for art shows, movies and story times.

The meeting also tried to establish the approximate size and cost of the required building, so that applications for grants and help in planning could go forward.

The initial proposal for the building, developed by members of the smaller group who started the investigation specified a structure 60 feet by 50 feet at an estimated cost of $75,000. After discussion, the size was increased to 54 feet by 80 feet at an estimated cost of $100,000. The decision to plan for a larger building was made so that the building would be big enough to accommodate some future expansion.

The building, which would be roughly divided in half for the museum and library, would be put on Municipal land next to the Municipal offices.

Funding for the project would come from Wintario and matching public subscription. No municipal funds may be used or the Wintario grant would be denied.

Additional grants are available from the provincial government for interior furnishings and for the museum portion of the building, separate from the library.

The municipality owns the land and building of the present library and would assume the cost of maintenance of the new building. Several people at the meeting noted that the budget for the library is small. Salaries of library personnel are paid by the Haliburton County Library Association.

The committee elected to continue the project named Mrs. Gorrie as chairperson, Aileen Blears as secretary and Frank Waters as treasurer. Finance and building subcommittees were also formed, made up of Robert Penfold, Stan Blears, Robert Gorrie, Shirley McGee, Mary Coneybeare, Richard Parisotto, Isabel Parisotto, Reg Booth and Irene Moore.

The Committee plans to hold another public meeting when plans and finance procedures are more complete.

Eakins wants Browndale information

John Eakins, MPP Victoria-Haliburton wants more information on all properties leased, rented or purchased by Browndale (Ontario), for use in their treatment program subsidized by the Ontario Government.

Mr. Eakins, who tabled a private member's notice of motion for production of papers, in the legislature, told The Echo that he would like to know the background on Browndale.

He pointed out that he doesn't think there is being enough information supplied by Frank Miller, Minister of Health for Ontario, on the situation at Browndale.

Mr. Eakins noted that the Ontario Provincial Police have seized the books from Browndale's head office.

"Miller should be producing the information on the property set-up," Mr. Eakins said, "We feel, right or wrong, it should be open to the public."

He pointed out that the government subsidizes Browndale with $7.3 million per year for treatment of about 300 children.

He said that he does not question the type of operation Browndale is and noted that he would like to see it

MINDEN TO GET MEDICAL CENTRE!

If you can't believe what you are reading, that is understandable as a medical centre for Minden has been an on-again-off-again, will-o-the-wisp for years.

However, it is true! Dr. Patrick B. Brady told this reporter that Council has already approved his plans for Brady Medical Centre Ltd. The property has been rezoned commercial, and letters have gone out to nearby property owners advising them of the proposed centre. There have been no objections.

The Medical Centre will be built on the property east of Dr. Brady's present location. Work is to begin in the spring of 1978 on the one-storey building. The front and sides will be faced with granite stone brick, and the back with vertical aluminum siding.

The structure will be close to the roadway with large spruce trees between it and the street.

Inside there will be offices for six doctors - four of these offices will be finished, and the other two will be left for finishing at a later date, if warranted.

There will be a modern laboratory, and a waiting room capable of seating sixty. Also included in the plan is a nurses' lounge, three washrooms, and a conference room. Ample parking space will be provided at the rear of the building.

It sounds so good that people will be lining up to get sick! I for one, hope that it all comes to pass.

Time to dust off those ice skates! Adult ice skating begins at the Arena this Wednesday, November 3 from 8:30 to 10:00 p.m. Why don't you give it a try?

The 'golfing curlers' got together at the Wagon Wheel last week to write 'fini' to a very good golfing season. This group played at Beaverbrook every Tuesday afternoon from May right through to October, and were 'rained out' only once.

The dinner and dance was also designated 'Herb Gill Night', and those attending showed their appreciation for his untiring efforts. If it were not for Herb, golfing-curling would not be nearly so much fun. During the evening, he was presented with a 'trophy' which was the handiwork of Bruce Scribner.

Many turned out for Fun Night, Saturday, October 30 to officially launch the 1976-77 curling season. It was Halloween 'witch' put everyone in good 'spirits' right from the beginning, and these were heightened by the unscheduled visit of an old Indian squaw who looked as those she had lost her wigwam. She was accompanied by a gruesome figure who (for want of a better name) we'll call Cree-py Jack-O. Everyone had a good time.

Nicola Marie Dollo arrived at Minden Red Cross Hospital on Wednesday morning, October 27. Diana and David are very happy with their eight pound, three-ounce bundle. Congratulations!

Congratulations also to Mary Hamilton (Welch) who learned last week that she had passed her exams, and is now a registered nurse.

Beautifully wrapped parcels overflowed from wishing well to surrounding tables last Saturday evening when bride-elect, Lynn Hughes, daughter of Berta and Bob Hughes, was 'showered' by the UCW. The United Church hall was gaily decorated for the occasion by Carol Cox.

Before the gifts were opened, Irene Moore presented Lynn with a corsage of red roses and tiny mums on behalf of those present, and read a 'Recipe for Matrimonial Bliss'. This she followed by one of Edgar Guest's loveliest poems, 'Home'.

Lynn will marry Wayne Cox, son of Mary and Lyman Cox, on Saturday, November 20 at Minden United Church.

While the Hughes-Cox ladies were partying, the men of the family, not to be outdone, were

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: May I respond to ANXIOUS SON whose problem was his sister who phones him at all hours of the night when she's "loaded"? Because this sister lives in the same city with their elderly and ailing mother, ANXIOUS SON cannot take his phone off the hook in case the call is from or about their mother.

In our city (Columbus, Ohio) and in many others cities across the country, there are treatment centers in general hospitals where an alcoholic can be admitted for treatment just as he (or she) would be if diabetes or any other disease were present. Because alcoholism is a disease, it is progressive and can become terminal. Until the public understands these facts, and reacts to them as it would to any other disease, the cure cannot be effected, and many fine people will die unnecessarily.

Please tell ANXIOUS SON to contact his mental health association or some related agency to find out where his sister can receive the treatment she needs before too much brain damage results from her drinking.

Finally, Alcoholics Anonymous (and Al-Anon and Alateen) have made the difference between life and death to many alcoholics and their families.

MRS. L.R.B.: COLUMBUS, OHIO

DEAR MRS. B.: I agree, ANXIOUS SON should make an all-out effort to help his drinking sister instead of seeking ways to escape her disturbing phone calls. (Those calls may well be an unconscious cry for help.) However, unless the sister calls A.A., they can't help her. A.A. doesn't go out to rescue alcoholics; the alcoholics must come to THEM.

DEAR ABBY: Whatever happened to your sense of humor and fair play? Regarding the middle-aged woman working in an office with 10 men who, much to her dismay, used the lavatory marked "WOMEN".

If she wants privacy, all she has to do upon entering the lavatory is to hang a cardboard sign marked "NOT NOW!" outside the door.

The men would surely respect her wishes as well as her ingenuity.

M.N.

DEAR M.N.: Clever idea. And practical, too—unless some clown crosses out the "NOT."

DEAR HOTEL GUEST: I am not working here because I want to earn money; I just enjoy emptying wastebaskets full of peanut shells and stale beer. "Black Lung" is a small risk to take in exchange for the pleasure of dumping ashtrays all day long. But the best part is the invigorating exercise of scrubbing toilets and bathroom floors—guaranteed to turn hands sandpaper even through rubber gloves. My fondest memories will always be the thrill of pursuing those elusive little hairs all over the bathtubs.

So, you see, that tip really wasn't necessary. Please accept my deepest thanks for your generosity. The penny you left will go towards furthering my college education.

Wendy Kinsman of Minden shared the honors with OPP Constable Brian Laterante at the Policemen's Ball, Oct. 27. Constable Laterante has been transferred to a detachment at Bell's Corners near Ottawa after six and a half years in Minden. He had just bought himself a $14 watch he said, and so the traditional present of a watch on parting had been dropped. He was given instead a skill saw, drill and sabre saw. Here he holds the traditional mug with his name and the detachment crest which was also part of the presentation. Const. Laterante leaves behind him many people who have nothing but good things to say about him.

Provincial Court

Derek Warburton of Minden will serve a 17 day intermittent sentence for a plea of guilty to impaired driving on August 18. Mr. Warburton was before the court on Oct. 26 to answer the charge.

Guilty

Stanley Houghton of Downsview was fined $220 at the provincial court on Oct. 26 for impaired driving. Mr. Houghton had been charged on Sept. 11.

Fined

Oram Rowbotham of Haliburton, guilty of impaired driving, was fined $100 or 10 days at the Provincial court in Minden. Mr. Rowbotham was apprehended on August 26. He chose to serve the 10 days in jail instead of paying the fine.

Fined $100

Raymond Shaw of Haliburton was fined $100 on each of three counts of making a false statement to the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

Guilty of the same offence Maureen Bonsfield of Wilberforce was also fined $100 on each of three counts of making false statements under the Unemployment Insurance Act.

90 days

Tommy Priskey, of Lindsay pleaded guilty in Minden Provincial Court to a charge of impaired driving and was sentenced to 90 days in jail, to be served intermittently.

Priskey was charged with the offence, July 19 in Dysart Township.

He was convicted of an impaired driving charge May 15 and driving with a per cent of alcohol in his blood of more than .08 per cent.

Judge Inrig noted that the minimum sentence provided for by the Criminal Code for a third offence was 90 days. Priskey's sentence will be served concurrently with a 14 day sentence he received Oct. 27.

Judge Inrig also ruled that there will be a six month probationary period during which time Priskey is not to consume any alcohol.

Impaired

On Oct. 26 at the Provincial court in Minden, Richard Shaw of Haliburton pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving and one of refusing to give a breath sample for a breathalyzer test.

He was fined $150 on each or fifteen days in jail. He is serving the jail sentence.

On the same day, Mr. Shaw answered a charge of possession of narcotics. He received a conditional discharge and a probation of two years for the first offence.

Probation

For causing a disturbance at the OPP offices on August 16, Linda Shaw of Halibur-ton was given a suspended sentence and probation for one year. The case was before the Provincial court in Minden Oct. 26.

Guilty plea

Raymond Griffin of the Minden area pleaded guilty at the Provincial court Oct. 27 to a charge of impaired driving. He was apprehended on Minden's Main Street on June 22 as a result of information from a private individual, the police evidence stated.

This charge was one remaining after Mr. Griffin has answered other matters in another jurisdiction. He has been received treatment as a part of the other sentence, and had 24 days to go on a three month jail term.

Judge Inrig ruled that Mr. Griffin could serve a concurrent sentence of 20 days for the impaired driving offence.

Charged

Donald Conrad Reil, 21, of Toronto has been charged with mischief in connection with a fire which destroyed a 1974 model car.

The Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police estimated the damage to a car owned by Gary Webster, 23, also of Toronto at $3,500.

The car was gutted early Saturday morning.

Reil was treated at Haliburton Hospital for facial burns.

Lutterworth opposes hydro increases

Lutterworth Township has voted its agreement with an objection made by the Association of Municipalities of Ontario (A.M.O.) regarding the 30.3 per cent increase in bulk hydro rates that has been granted to Ontario Hydro by the Ontario Energy Board.

The A.M.O., a front group that has had fairly good results in bargaining with the government stated that the Ontario Hydro could accommodate its expansion expenses by staggering its increases over a five year period and keep the cost within the eight per cent recommended by the Anti Inflation Board.

The resolution of the A.M.O. said that on behalf of the Ontario residents and small business owners, the proposed increase should be rolled back or staggered in order to keep them to a rate consistent with the A.I.B. guidelines which the government of the Province of Ontario has so strongly endorsed.

Rustlers at large

The Coboconk detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police is on the lookout for cattle rustlers.

The OPP believe that rustlers stole 20 hereford steers valued at $8,000 from a pasture north of Woodville.

The cattle were rustled sometime between Oct. 17 and 24.

John Harold Ballam, of RR 3 Woodville, reported the theft last week.

The animals were taken from a rented pasture about five miles from Mr. Ballam's home.

Police investigate 65 occurrences

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police investigated 65 general occurrences and five motor vehicle collisions during a one week period from Oct. 25 to 31.

During that time the staff investigated four break ins and delivered one compassionate message.

There was one person charged with a Liquor Licence Act violation and two persons charged with impaired driving.

Change status beat AIB rules

We look in amazement at how the anti-inflation board can be fooled. Now we hear that teachers can get salary increases simply by having their status changed.

Hopefully these status changes will come about by merit, we would never want a person stopped from getting a higher position simply because no one wants to give them a salary increase.

By the same token we hope that these status changes do not come about because someone felt it was time to give the teachers an increase and not because the teacher has earned it.

Education is getting progressively more expensive, and the taxpayers have to pay for it in the end.

If a teacher deserves a better position, give it to him or her but don't do it just because it means more money.

School can still be a challenge

Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Students were honored last week for their efforts in school.

School, despite all reports about the changes that have been made and how much easier it is now then when most of us attended is still a challenge for the students who want to make it a challenge.

Those that were honored with awards are the future of our community, province and country and show is that our future is in good hands.

These students have applied themselves to the task at hand and came out on top, the best in their school.

The award winners have and are making the best of the system, they are and will continue to learn through the years. The Recorder offers congratulations and the best in the future to all high school students.

This corner usually agrees almost to the point of servility with the hard-hitting editorials and agricultural stories carried in that excellent rural magazine, Farm and Country.

The writer has, in fact, been castigated once or twice for supporting that paper in controversial issues. One man even went so far as to accuse me of being on Farm and Country's payroll.

I am not. This column is sponsored by nobody except the independent editors of the 15 newspapers in Ontario with brains enough to realize that a farm column is necessary.

But I must take issue with the most recent editorial on gun control.

I've said it before and I'll continue to say it: Guns are an instrument of violence. I dislike guns. I hate 'em and my abhorrence colors my opinions. I freely admit it.

Farm and Country magazine believes the death of the gun control law which withered with the end of the last Parliamentary session is a good thing; that the old bill was a bad piece of legislation.

The farm magazine suggests that measures are still needed to curb the misuse of firearms. I say amen to that. But rather than produce a new bill, the magazine suggests a simple amendment to the Criminal Code.

The amendment, the magazine suggests, should impose a mandatory jail term of at least five years on anyone caught committing a crime or loitering with intent to commit a crime who has a firearm in his possession.

Bullroar. Any gun control law has to do more than that, much more. If the original legislation was weak — and I don't think it went far enough — then an amendment such as that suggested by Farm and Country is useless.

The original legislation, watered down as it was, proposed that anyone seeking to buy a rifle or a shotgun or ammunition be required to have a licence.

To obtain a licence, that person would have to submit an application signed by two guarantors willing to certify that they knew of no reason why the applicant was unfit to possess a gun or ammunition.

I don't think that legislation went far enough. It should have made a competence test mandatory.

I wrote a column a couple of months ago which was strongly in support of stricter gun control. I stand by that opinion although the column attracted more comment than any in the last six months.

Those who do not share my views on gun control are the people who write letters, nasty letters, too. They are the people who descend on MPs and Cabinet ministers demanding the right to own a gun. Unfortunately, too many politicians listen to those people and the vast, silent majority sit back and get the legislation they deserve because they are too lethargic to speak up.

And yes, I'm fully aware of the problems stringent laws may cause farmers. A gun is usually a necessity around a farm.

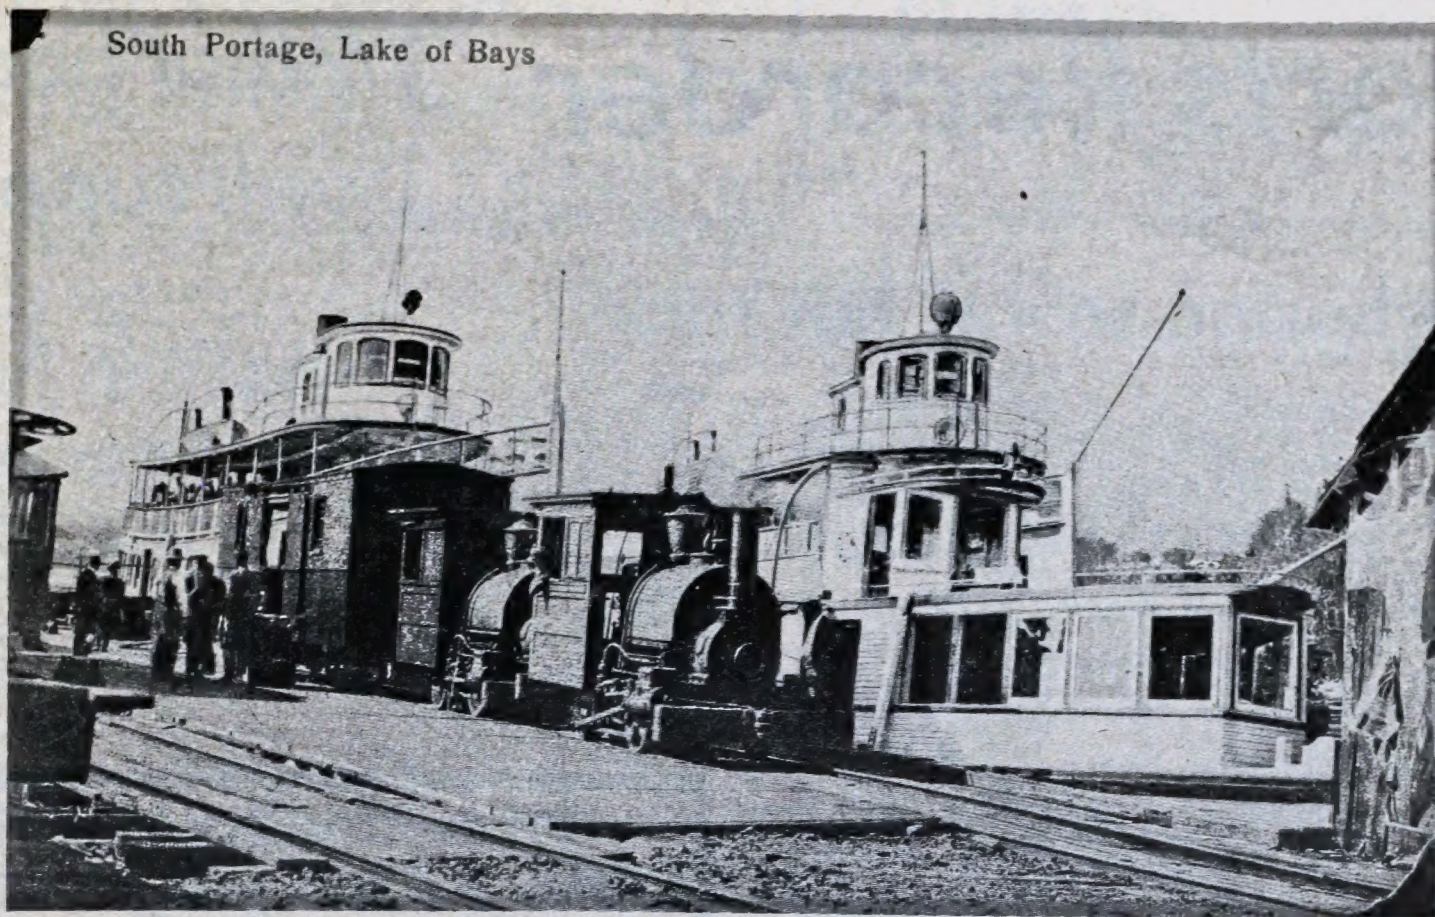

But stringent gun control laws would be a minor nuisance to farmers, nothing more. If such legislation would save one life in this country, it would be worth it.

People who want to use guns illegally are going to get those guns no matter how difficult it is. But so many hundreds of people are wounded or killed by the gun that wasn't supposed to be loaded, the gun carelessly stored and carelessly handled.

I agree wholeheartedly with Geoffrey Stevens, a cracking good columnist with the Toronto Globe and Mail, who wrote recently: "A civilized society has a responsibility to guarantee the right of the citizen to live, to work and to walk the streets as free from fear as the law can possibly provide. This responsibility and this right, in my view, transcend the privilege of private ownership of firearms."

As a former reporter for half a dozen newspapers or radio stations, I have covered too many "accidental" deaths, too many murders and/or suicides to make me believe in anything less than very stringent gun control laws.

I can only repeat, too, what was said after the first column on gun control was printed: That those who disagree will be vehement and outspoken in their opposition. Again, I say, I just hope they aren't as quick on the trigger as they are in getting their opinions in print.

Very appropriately, the meeting held to discuss a possible new library and museum was held in the library at Archie Stouffer Public School on October 27. It seemed after much of the talk, that the meeting should have been held in the Minden Library itself. The problem, of course, is that there is no room in the Minden Library for a meeting of any kind. Nevertheless, the fact of the overcrowding in that library would have been obvious if the people who called the meeting had invited the public to come to the existing library and try to meet there.

The group of about 24 interested people did not come near filling the Archie Stouffer Library, but would have had a hard time getting inside the door at the building that no handles the largest circulation in the county.

The Minden library building has several windows. At the moment, however, there is only one window that is not lined with books. The walls are lined almost to the ceiling with books that are out of reach to most people. As was noted at the meeting, when books are that unaccessible, they often go unnoticed and unused.

A library and museum of sufficient size would of course accomodate books and artifacts of the area. It would also accomodate people.

It no longer seems correct to think of a library as just a place to store books. It is a place for people to use them. The Minden library has a collection of reference books that can not be signed out, an arrangement unlike some of the other libraries in the County, the meeting was told. This means that the reference books are more accessible to more people, but it also means that there should be space in the library to use them. At present there is not the needed room.

The library can be a place for people to meet as well. Through the County Library System there are a number of services offered which included a story times and a puppet show for children. The library could also be a workshop for adults. Movies and art shows are available through the Library system, if the community has the facilities to make use of them.

A museum is an essential part of community life in that it not only presents the community to itself, it would provide a showplace for displays and other information from different communities. A community must be aware of its own character, faults and advantages, but it must also avoid becoming insular, and forgetting to look forward and outward.

Apparently, as far as the people who attended the meeting for the library were able to say, there is some feeling in Minden that there are other more needed improvements in the town. If that is so, where are the people who are ready to promote these other ideas? The Museum-Library proposal has been aired while other suggestions have yet to be made.

It could be argued that improvements to a community do not always have to be of a physical nature, but most would admit that something like the arena and community centre provide the facilities for an improved community life.

Minden should already be proud of its library, which has a circulation of 16,000, the largest in the county. Improved facilities might mean that Minden residents use their library more often, and for a wider variety of purposes.

It was remembered at last Wednesday's meeting that there was very little response in the general community to the idea of an arena and community centre when it was first proposed. There would be few now, however, who could say that they never benefitted from it.

Perhaps the pattern of development of the Museum-Library will be something the same. Certainly there is already a group who are very willing to work. There was at least one man at the Wednesday meeting who came to oppose the the issue and admitted that having heard what could be done, he had changed his mind.

A community like individuals, lives by its wits. Improved library facilities and a museum are a good way to ensure that the growing community, and especially those growing up in the community, have a place to exercise their wits and learn to make use of cultural as well as physical improvements.

Reader questions Manpower location

Dear Sir:

I see by the Echo paper the Haliburton will be the location for the Manpower and Employment Centre for this area. Why Haliburton Village and not the County Seat "Minden." We have needed this for quite a few years but in "Minden" not Haliburton. If this office were located in Minden the UIC cheques could be cashed at the Bank of Commerce and our stores would reap the benefit by selling goods in our own town. Our Council has missed a bet on this. I also see that Len Lambury is in the running for Council. Len will add new blood and I believe the Council needs a transfusion for a little more action. We have a good man at the Helm as "Reeve" and some active members and as an election is coming up our Council members will be looking for Votes and we as taxpayers pay the wages so ask, what did you advocate to improve the Town. Put up signs at the expense of ratepayers just to be torn out of the ground and ignored by the motorists or the children bend them out of shape. The roads are bumpy and holes here and there. I think a little more action on Council's part to give the Town to clean up paint up etc. I go along with Len Lonsberry to get the unemployed and those on Welfare, if they are in fit & health condition "to do some work for the town and ease the burden on taxpayers." The Liquor Board makes the Hotels paint and clean up so why not the Council do the same for some of the stores and restaurants in Town. I hope the new municipal Garage will have Public Supervised Washrooms as the one we have now is a disgrace to the Town and most of the time locked up. Maybe we need more women on the Council, as the old goes - a good woman behind a man makes for a good man to do a good job - so get in there girls as an election is coming up and we do need some changes. I believe "Len" will do a good job as he will not be just a yes man on the Council.

league. Under the new system, the teams play the same towns that compete in the O.M.H.A. Representative league. They will travel a little more, but they will also benefit from a wider competition.

The first game Sunday, beginning at 6:30 will be between Minden Bantams and Cannington. At 7:30 the Minden Midgets take on the team from Sunderland.

It should be noted that there are no home games being held in Minden during the week. All games are being held consecutively on Saturday or Sunday. Nothing could be more convenient for the spectators, it must be agreed.

If you haven't been out at the games, you have already missed some good wins. The teams are showing lots of promise and would only do better with more fan support. Minden Minor Hockey would greatly appreciate the support needed for its teams. Support would also help with the costs of referees, without whom there would be no season.

This year Minden Minor Hockey executive has done their best to outfit their boys as well as to provide them with everything else they need for good hockey.

Sponsors for new sweaters for a number of teams have been very generous to Minor Hockey. On the ice, you will see the O.M.H.A. Representative Juveniles decked out in new sweaters, courtesy of Gary Vasey, court-estate. The O.M.H.A. Midgets are outfitted by Walker's Lumber, and Jadek Sports has provided the Bantam team with their new sweaters.

In the Tri-County League, Ron Wrightman Realty has made the Pee wees look good, and Mike's Milk of Minden had dressed the Atom players. Novice Tri County players are outfitted by S.G. Nesbitt and Son Ltd.

Many thanks to all of these businessmen who are giving the boys so much support.

Haliburton Huskies beat Colborne 11-3

The Haliburton Huskies started fast Friday night with a goal at the 19 second mark, on route to an 11-3 bombing of Colborne Mustangs in the Colborne Arena.

Tim Oram opened the scoring unassisted.

Colborne came back with less than two minutes to go in the first period to even the count when Rick Palmateer scored from Glen Scriver.

The Huskies major attack took place in the second period when they outscored the hometowners 7-1.

Bernie Nicholls gave the Huskies the lead for keeps at the one minute mark of the second period when he scored from Barry Shaw.

Ed Roberts fired on home just over one minute later from Dan Curry and Jim Thompson.

Colborne got back into the game briefly when Trevor McBride connected on a passing play from Lloyd Barchuk and Ian Williams at the 4:42 mark of the second period.

Shaw got the Huskies going in the right direction again when he scored his first of two goals at 7:22 with an assist from Dave Levely.

Levely connected with a pass to Thompson at the 9:55 mark and then hit Shaw again at 10:28 to give Haliburton a 6-2 lead.

Joe Roberts scored unassisted at the 13:58 mark to put the Huskies further into the lead.

Larry Stinson got the final goal of the second period at 16:04 when he netted a pass from Randy Barras.

The Huskies came out flying in the third period as well. Levely picked up his first goal and fourth point of the night on a pass from Mark MacDuff at the 5:39 mark.

Six minutes later Dave Hartwick widened the game to 10-2 scoring from Bart Barnes and Nicholls.

Stinson's second goal of the night was the final one for the Huskies, at the 12:09 mark from Curry.

Marty Kernaghan scored at the 13:40 mark to make the final count 11-3.

A total of 36 penalties were assessed in the game with 20 going to Colborne.

Try for moose this year

Hunting season is upon us, or more properly, the hunting season on deer and moose is here.

There will be just one week for moose this year.

Since the season is only open every second year, it may be a long time since some hunters have shot a moose. Anyone wishing to try the most likely area for moose in the district should look towards Bruton and Clyde Townships, says Fish and Wildlife director Steve Tool of the Minden branch of Natural Resources. Of course, there are hunting restrictions which apply in these townships that are a part of Algonquin Park. There are two areas, here,

Dorset man charged following family feud

Charged with possession of a carbon dioxide powered pellet gun for a purpose dangerous to the public peace, Brian Baker of Dorset was tried in the Provincial court on Thursday, Oct. 28.

He initially pleaded guilty to the charge which was the result of a confrontation between him and his brother in law, Edward Cross of Dorset.

The two were at a dance at the Dorset Community Center when Cross was asked by the man in charge of the function to help take Baker outside following a dispute between Baker and another person. Cross testified that Baker appeared to resent his interference.

Later that evening, Baker appeared outside the Cross home and had challenged Cross to come outside. Wayne Brainard, present as a sitter for Mr. and Mrs. Cross, testified that he had seen Baker holding the pellet pistol. Cross had gone outside and fired a rifle into the air, the evidence showed and Baker had left apparently dropping the pistol in the driveway.

In the middle of the proceedings, the defence changed the plea to not guilty. Counsel Ted Gardiner explained that the complainants and accused had decided that since it was a family matter and was causing a great deal of upset to those who had come to testify, the plea would be changed.

Since Baker was apparently a peace loving citizen, and no damage had been done although the public peace had been endangered, Judge Inrig ruled that Baker receive a suspended sentence, and two years probation. He is to keep the peace, not to have any weapons, stay out of licenced premises, allow the pistol to be confiscated, and pay court costs of $96.

Woman ordered to stay out of Legion

Eunice Peters of Wilberforce was tried at the Provincial court on Thursday on two counts of common assault that resulted from a dispute over a draw for an afghan. The incident occurred at a dance held at the Wilberforce Legion, Sept. 27.

Jacqueline Scott and Margaret Daniels were the complainants in the case. Judge Inrig ruled that Mrs. Peters was the aggressor, although the two complainants were involved in some slapping and hair pulling as well.

He said that there was no provocation or implied consent as defence counsel Ted Gardiner argued.

The judge felt that it was unfortunate that things of this nature happen in communities where people are trying to get along.

Mrs. Peters was given a conditional discharge. After one year probation, the matter will be dropped and no record held if she abides by the conditions of the sentence. Mrs. Peters is to stay out of the Canadian Legion at Wilberforce and pay court costs of $71.

Fined for carrying firearm

A plea of not guilty to a charge of carrying a firearm with intent to hunt on Sunday was entered on behalf of Owen Mintz at the Provincial court in Minden on Oct. 28.

Mr. Mintz had been questioned by Natural Resources Conservation Officer Kenneth Jackson on Sept. 26, and was advised that he would be charged.

Since no defence was entered on Mr. Mintz's behalf, there was a finding of guilty and a fine of $35 and $5 costs given.

however open to day hunters. One extends for one mile on either side of the hydro line in Clyde Township, and the other encompasses a one mile band around Kingscott Lake.

Moose season opens on November 1 and last through November 6.

Deer season last for two weeks, from November 1 to 13 inclusive. Mr. Tool of Natural Resources says that although prospects are slightly better this year, with a slight increase in reports and general signs of deer, success rates for deer hunters will probably not improve much this season.

Bring any lower jaws of moose or deer to the Natural Resources office in Minden or give them to any conservation officer. The reward for the jaws, which will assist the Ministry in aging studies of the deer population, is a badge to acknowledge the hunter's cooperation. Such a crest also proves that you were one of the lucky ones to be successful.

Moose or deer hides brought to the Ministry provide the successful hunter with a bright orange hat that again proves that not only did you shoot an animal, you brought him home.

Tory Hill man guilty of mischief

Colin Dick of the Tory Hill area pleaded guilty to a charge of mischief.

He appeared in provincial court Wednesday.

Mr. Dick had forced his way into a house on July 13 causing $10 damage and frightening the occupants. He was intoxicated and was not sure where he was, the evidence stated.

It was suggested that probation would be of more assistance to the accused and to society in general than a jail term. Mr. Dick was given a suspended sentence of two years and probation with the conditions that he not consume any alcoholic beverage, obtain medical treatment, stay out of licenced premises, make a $10 restitution to the owners of the house and report for a period of time to a probation officer.

Minden man pleads guilty

Donald Wheeler of Minden pleaded guilty Oct. 27 in provincial court to two charges, one of having the care and control of a motor vehicle when his ability to drive was impaired and one of refusing to comply with a demand for a breath sample. Both charges were laid on April 17.

He was found by the Police as he was trying to get a truck out of a ditch with the help of a tractor. There were signs of impairment but the accused refused to give a sample.

The Judge ruled $100 and costs for each charge, making a total fine of $205. The suspension of drivers licence that automatically accompanies conviction on both these charges could be concurrent, the judge said. The Ministry of transportation and communications, however, may extend the period of suspension beyond the minimum of 30 days ruled by the court, and in this case, the judge noted that the period of Mr.

Wheeler's suspension might be increased because of a record of other driving offences.

Single car crash results in damage

A single car accident Friday morning on Green Lake Road resulted in $500 damage to a car driven by Joanair Telenko, 20 of RR 1 Haliburton.

The vehicle was west-bound when it hit loose gravel, went out of control and rolled on to its roof.

A two car crash Wednesday afternoon resulted in $350 damage to a truck driven by Reginald Cook, 67, of RR 1 Haliburton and $200 damage to a car driven by Doreen Hutchinson, 42, of Haliburton. The accident took place on Irish Line Road.

A pick-up truck driven by Douglas J. Moore, 33, of Haliburton received $1,000 damage when it was involved in an accident with a car driven by James B. Cooper, 57, of RR 1 Haliburton.

The accident took place Tuesday, Oct. 26, on Highway 530. Cooper has been charged with failing to yield the right of way.

There was $150 damage to the Cooper vehicle.

Not the same

The Recorder would like to explain that the James Reynolds mentioned in last week's paper in connection with a conviction of theft under $200 is not James M. Reynolds of Haliburton, but is James C. Reynolds who has not been a permanent resident of the area as long as Mr. J.M. Reynolds. James M. Reynolds is a life long resident of Haliburton who operated a sand and gravel business from that town and is not related to James C. Reynolds who was involved in the court case.

Farmland still plentiful

Jim Webster, Victoria-Haliburton Progressive Conservative candidate said that the farmer's problem today is not too little farm land, but the ability to produce far more food than people are willing to buy at a profitable price.

"We have the ability to increase production tremendously, providing consumers are willing to pay for it," Mr. Webster said.

A release from Mr. Webster stated, "Some groups in Ontario are trying to promote a fear that Ontario will some day soon run short of food because of loss of farm land. They suggest that, even if the people of Ontario do not go hungry, millions of in foreign countries could be fed if we moved now to freeze farm land."

He said that if society is willing to see that the farmer received a decent living from his land, he will produce all the food Ontario can use. "However, if society is unable or unwilling to face the facts squarely and pay him a fair price, then no amount of planning at any government level can guarantee our food supply," he said.

"The average family in Ontario spends only 19 per cent of its income on food. In Japan and Britain it is 25 per cent in the Soviet Union 53 per cent," he said.

Those who are rightfully concerned about a shortage of food to provide to the hungry of the world must realize that all that is required, right here and now, is that farmers are paid enough to encourage them to increase production, Mr. Webster indicated.

Mr. Webster noted that, a farmer cannot produce without cost to him, nor should he have to work without return either. Proponents of world feeding must be willing to accept the lower standard of living resulting from handling it over to the world's hungry. To the contrary, the evidence appears strong that Ontario's population wants a higher standard of living, not a lower one, and it wants to spend less of its income on food.

"Anyone advocating a freeze on all farm land should be asked to explain how that freeze would keep farmers producing on that land. Sheer virtue is not enough of a motive for following a life as expensive as farming," he said.

Mr. Webster said that people who grumble about their grocery bills need be award of what has happened and what is happening to the people who grow the groceries. While Ontario farmers got 9½ per cent more for their products in 1975 than in 1974, their expenses increased so much that in the end - and that's an apt phrase - they actually ended up with 2.7 per cent less money in their pockets.

How many urban wage-earners took a pay cut last year? And if any were asked to, do you think they would stay on the job," he concluded.

College construction is approved

Sir Sandford Fleming College has received approval in principle from the Ministry of Colleges and Universities for construction projects valued at over $1 million at campuses in Lindsay and Peterborough.

College Board Chairman Elizabeth Clarkson said plans include a 9,000 square foot educational resource centre incorporating library and related audio-visual facilities for the Frost campus in Lindsay, at a cost of $445,300 a 12,700 square foot recreation bubble to be erected there for $187,000 and construction of a 150 seat lecture hall at the Brealey Drive campus in Peterborough which, along with a series of renovations, is estimated at $387,000.

The College hopes to begin construction of all projects later this year.

The educational resource centre will be located centrally on the north side of the Frost campus. When completed, it will be the first time these services have been drawn together in an efficient unit in Lindsay, a need that College officials note will be critical when the current construction of phase II is completed and the campus will be housing approximately 800 students.

A unique feature will be a natural resource catalogue and study facility, where mineral items being studied.

The recreation bubble will relieve the considerable pressure now being placed on the scheduling of existing recreation facilities in Lindsay by the annual influx of College students. Its cost will be less than one-quarter that on a permanent structure, which is currently impractical because of financial restraints.

Designed primarily for tennis, basketball, badminton and exercise activities, it will be located west of the main building and will incorporate a permanent 118 by 94 foot floor that will continue as an outside playing surface following the projected 10-year life of the enclosure.

Accommodation of diploma nursing students and faculty is a major reason for the required construction and renovation at the Brealey Drive campus in Peterborough. Original plans for that campus did not include these facilities, since the responsibility for this form of education was shifted to Colleges after construction there had been completed.

The new lecture hall's 150 seat capacity will be divided into two classrooms of 90 and 60 seats by a moveable wall. The larger classrooms will be used primarily by nursing students, while the business, general and applied arts and technical divisions will hold lectures in the adjacent classroom.

The total capacity will be utilized for lectures as well. Currently, because of its elective system and the broad nature of the first semester of many programs, Sir Sandford has at times up to 600 students taking the same subject concurrently.

The new facility will be built on the north side of the campus and adjacent to the new structure approximately 12,000 square feet will be renovated to create permanent laboratory, classroom and office space for nursing divisions students and faculty. Student government offices and facilities will be re-located also, as a result of the new space allocations.

Electrical demands are up more than 10 per cent

The province's primary electrical energy demand last month was up more than 10 per cent from that in September, 1975.

Ontario Hydro attributes the increase, which is well above the average for the year, to the economic slowdown and a large number of work stoppages experienced by the province in the fall of '75. Primary energy demand for the first nine months of 1976 was 5.9 per cent ahead of that for the corresponding period last year.

The September '76 primary energy demand totalled

6,983,316,000 kilowatt hours and peak demand reached 12,346,000 kilowatts.

About 34 per cent of energy made available during September '76 came from water power; 22 per cent, coal; 17 per cent, nuclear; 7.4 per cent, gas; 2.4 per cent, oil and the remainder from purchases.

The first 750,000 kilowatt unit at the four unit Bruce nuclear generating station supplied initial electricity to the Ontario power system September 4. Commissioning tests are continuing.

From the Chamber with Bob Stinson

Last week's column regarding the new Ontario property tax proposals has generated considerable interest and we do hope that any of you who are concerned by its effects are writing letters. Gordon Jones has called the office and arranged to do a telephone interview with us about it on the C.B.C. Northern Network this Tuesday A.M. With this added publicity we would hope that there will be a lot of correspondence generated on the subject.

If you have been into the Chamber office and struggled with our sticky front door you will now find that it swings wide and free. A work party this week-end of Chamber Directors, John Teljeur and Dennis Casey jacked up and straightened the building. Now it remains to insulate the perimeter to the foundation and get it closed in for the winter. In the meantime, please excuse our untidy conditions.

The Chamber is now heading into the home stretch on a difficult year financially. Our success for the balance of this fiscal year will depend very heavily on a number of fund generating projects. We do urge you all to support us with our telephone directories, birthday calendar and the Elimination Draw Dance. These projects must show a profit in order for us to provide good promotion for the county and end up in the black.

All members have been mailed order forms for the copy in the 1977 Haliburton "Lure" book and we wish to remind you that the deadline for returning your information is November 15th. If anyone is considering becoming a new member in the Chamber they should let us know before that date to be included in the 1977 book.

We met with Canada Manpower people this week and our new "Outreach" office should be open in Haliburton shortly. Arrangements have been finalized to hire the necessary staff and obtain suitable office space. The Chamber is quite optimistic about this new venture and the far reaching benefits it may have.

We met Gord & Betty Bennett this week, who have just purchased Little Hawk Resort. They have moved here from Bolton and intend to keep their resort open all year with particular emphasis on the snowmobile enthusiasts. We hope you will all welcome them to our community.

We also welcomed three lumber businesses to our Chamber membership this week. Peterborough Lumber has enrolled their new Minden store and purchased an advertisement in the "Lure" book. Mel Robertson after about 2 years of painstaking work has literally hand built a new sawmill operation and is now ready to start the operation of Robertson Lumber near Minden. Carnarvon Lumber was previously a member as a branch of Emmerson Lumber, but has since been sold to Gary and Rick Bailey and Candice Johnson, and they have now purchased a membership in the Chamber.

John Carry called to advise us that the Haliburton Kinsmen have decided to undertake a very worthwhile project. They are laying plans to develop the "Harburn Pot Holes" as a tourist attraction. We certainly wish them success with this as tourist attractions are badly needed here.

The Haliburton Highlands Cross Country Ski Club is making many plans also and Blair Pearce tells us that on November 22nd they will hold a public meeting at the high school to explain what has been done and what they hope to do. The meeting will include some very good basic tips for any of you who are not yet into this sport but would like to try it. Mark this one down on your calendar now.

Eakins says

Home owner grants poorly administered

"The Government's first time home owner grant scheme was ill-conceived and inefficiently administered," according to Liberal M.P.P. John Eakins (Victoria-Haliburton), "and the post audit investigation is yet another instance of Government bungling."

Mr. Eakins went on to say that in his 1975 Budget, Mr. McKeough announced the scheme would cover new and used homes, regardless of price or purchaser's income - surely a naive approach. The intention was to encourage home ownership, he told us. What he meant was the scheme would encourage people to vote for his party. What actually happened was that it encouraged thousands of people to rip off the Ontario taxpayer - courtesy of the Government.

"Soon after the scheme was put into operation, we heard stories of people, who could well afford a down payment on a house, using the grant money to buy broadloom and drapes, take holidays in Florida - all at the taxpayers' expense. Why weren't the applications checked more thoroughly at that stage? Was the Government afraid this would be an unpopular idea, adversely affecting their election hopes? Why were so many low income people with modest low priced homes turned down? Were they considered by the Government as too cheap, when people of the $100,000 and up category had no problems whatsoever?" he asked.

Mr. Eakins said that it is well known "that people moved into a house on December 30 with a bed and toaster and moved out on January 5, then rented the property and collected the $1,000.00. I ask the Minister of Revenue what precautions he is taking to ensure that the taxpayers will not be ripped off for the remaining $500.00?"

"Now we hear that (1) the 9,000 ineligible recipients already discovered represent a much higher percentage than the Government anticipated when it launched the investigation, and (2) the investigation will be cut short because the cost cannot be justified. If the cost of the auditors' services was prohibitive in the first place, the investigation should never have been undertaken - or did the Government not know how much the auditors' services would cost? If the Government stands to recover more money than anticipated, then surely this money will partially offset the cost of the investigation," he said.

Mr. Eakins said that obviously, both home grant scheme and post audit investigation were undertaken with little consideration of the costs involved, and a blind faith - incredible in a so-called sophisticated bureaucracy - that the

50-50 DRAW WINNER

The winner of the 50-50 Draw was Bernard Trumbull. The amount was $49.00.

Halloween has come and gone for another year with only a few problems.

We've seen many strangers around the area this week as if it was the first week of Hunting Season. We hope they get their share of Partridges or Venison.

We are very sorry to hear the passing of Charlie Grahm, a life resident of Kinmount.

We all appreciate the good road we now have, Highway 121 from Kinmount to Highway 35.

Mr. & Mrs. Randy Grozelle and their son Chris went to visit their niece Candy Grozelle and her baby girl of Oshawa. There riding companions were Randy's parents of Miners Bay.

Fran Crawford is having an Amway party at the Legion Hall on Wed. November 17. Everyone welcome.

Norland Notebook

by Barbara Maunder

We welcome to Norland Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Kreppner who bought Al's Sport Shop in the early summer. Ruth and Gerda formerly owned the Del Haven Hotel in Haliburton. Since purchasing the Sport Shop, they have been busy renovating the exterior and the interior of the building. The name of their store is to be The Village Craft and Wool Shop and they are hoping to have it open for business early December in time for Christmas shoppers. They will carry a complete line of craft and wool supplies and Mrs. Kreppner will be available for assistance if required.

Mrs. Elwood Graham was fortunate last week in winning Lindsay's CKLY Contest. Grace correctly guessed from clues given - a week end at Westbury Hotel, Toronto, a ceramic soap dish and six 45 R.P.M. records, all of which she won as her prize.

Saturday Oct. 23 from 10:00 to 4:00 p.m. was the District Four Annual Convention of Ontario Horticultural Association held in Kinmount Community Centre. Some of our members were present at this meeting and enjoyed the speakers who were Mr. LeRoy Brown, recently retired District Representative of Ontario Department of Agriculture, Mr. Lynn Dennis R.B.G. of Hamilton and Mr. Russell Gomme.

Perhaps some of you were not aware that until very recently all of Coboconk's last four phone numbers started with the figure 8 or 3. Now Bell Canada has added additional lines starting with figure "1". None are shown in our recent phone book but some are being used locally.

Norland U.C.W. Group II are asking that you keep Wednesday, November 24 from two to four o'clock free to visit the Christmas Bazaar being planned for that day in the United Church hall. There will be Christmas gifts and ideas, a bake table and afternoon tea served.

to rededicate ourselves to the ideals that motivated whole generations of young Canadians. And, it gives us an opportunity to pass the torch of remembrance to today's young Canadians, who are too young to remember the sacrifices of their fathers and grandfathers, but who are nonetheless the beneficiaries of their sacrifices.

It has been said that a nation that does not observe its past does not have a future, and all too often this has proved to be true. A very important part of our past is our wars, and the people who went away to fight in those wars.

It is therefore fitting that we observe the anniversary of that war that was supposed to end all world wars, and so observe all other wars that have been fought since then, and that we have been involved in as a nation.

We celebrate these occasions in a way that would please those in whose memory, marching troops and veterans, laying of wreaths, and messages of tribute delivered by Canadians from all walks of public and private life.

As we celebrate on these occasions, we hope that our departed heroes will know what we are doing, and that they will approve. We hope that they will feel that what they did was worthwhile in terms of that time in their lives, and we hope that they will feel that their sacrifice was not in vain when measured against what we have done since.

Most of all, we hope that we are worthy of them and their memory, and that when the final bugle notes are sounded, we will be accepted once again into their company. Let us always remember that we who are left are only the trustees of what they left behind.

We're pleased that Mrs. Phyllis Greig is home from the hospital and is feeling well enough that she will be back to work on a part-time basis very shortly.

Norland Library Board announcing the resignation of Mrs. Harold Chynoweth as secretary-treasurer may not seem like news but how many know that Hilda has held this position for 30 years? She first took this office when the Library was upstairs in the Le Crow store that is now the township office. We all owe Hilda a vote of thanks for her long and diligent service.

Dixie Fountain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Fountain has just received an honors R.R. in Nursing. She has accepted a position at Cedars of Lebanon hospital in Miami Florida and will be leaving shortly.

On Sun. Nov. 7 at 11:15 a.m. all of the churches in Coboconk charge of United Church will meet together in Kinmount United Church.

Rev. Wilbur Howard, moderator of United Church of Canada, will speak at a special service at Cambridge United Church, Lindsay on Mon. Nov. 8 at 8:00 p.m. Everyone is invited to meet Rev. Howard and a social hour will follow his address.

HELPFUL HINT

To make a quick and inexpensive copper cleaner, mix 2 tablespoons of flour, 1 tablespoon of salt and enough vinegar to make a paste. Store in a tightly capped jar. Excellent for keeping copper bottomed pans bright.

For an easy non-baking "round square" that keeps well refrigerated try the following:

DATE ROLL
1 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup margarine
1 cup chopped dates
Simmer in a saucepan until thick and well blended. Cool and add 3 cups Rice Krispies cereal and 10 cut and drained maraschino cherries.
Make into 3 rolls about 2 inches across. Wrap in waxed paper and store in refrigerator in a plastic bag. Slice to serve.
P.S. I have found that even persons who claim not to like dates, do enjoy this recipe.

Trial will continue Jan.

The trial of Edward Sevic of Etobicoke on a charge of impaired driving and a charge of failing to comply with a demand for a breath sample began on October 27 in the Provincial court in Minden.

Mr. Sevic was charged Nov. 1 1975. He was followed from the Main Street of Minden along highway 121 by OPP officer Brown and auxiliary officer Harrison on Hallowe'en night.

He was stopped and taken to the Minden detachment, the officers testified, where he failed to complete the breathalyzer test, Constable Brown said.

There are other witnesses yet to be examined, and court ended on October 26 before the case was finished. The trial will continue on January 11, 1977.

scheme would not be abused. As usual, the Government's attitude was 'It's good public relations. Let's do it. The taxpayer will foot the bill.'

"Frankly, taxpayers today are sick and tired of picking up the tab for Government mistakes," he concluded.

stay in Haliburton County. He added though that perhaps John Brown should not have a monopoly on these types of centres.

Mr. Eakins said he is questioning the administration, "after all, taxpayers' money is paying for it."

He said that Browndale is a good industry for Haliburton and his party, (Liberal) is anxious for good service to children.

A news release from Mr. Eakins explained the special legislative procedure for a Notice of Motion for Production of Papers.

"This legislative procedure has rarely been used in the Ontario Legislature", said Mr. Eakins, "and certainly not within recent memory."

"We have, in desperation, resorted to this means of attempting to force the government to produce documents which should rightly be in the public domain, having in the past tried every other alternative method of persuasion, without success. In my view, effective freedom of information legislation is badly needed in Ontario."

"Several of my colleagues have also published similar motions."

Margaret Campbell (St. George) has petitioned for the Ministry of Health audit of Browndale (Ontario) and all pertinent material gathered in the course of that audit; Vernon Singer (Wilson Heights) for copies of the Minutes of all Ontario Housing Corporation Board of Directors' Meetings from January 1st, 1973 to June 30th, 1976, inclusive; Ray Haggerty (Erie) for copies of students made for the Ministry of Treasury and Intergovernmental Affairs on the Pickle Lake Development.

"Pat Reid of Rainy River has petitioned for copies of all documents dealing with environment studies, native peoples' rights, economic implications and all inter-departmental and inter-Ministerial communications related to the above as it applies to the proposed Reed paper project in North-Western Ontario."

"That Opposition Members should be forced to resort to an archaic rarely used legislative procedure in their determination to obtain vital information is an indictment of this Government's persistent and arrogant disregard of the inherent rights of the Legislature."

Coboconk news with Shiela Lake

Sympathy goes out to Mrs. Myrtle Liscombe in the loss of her daughter, Sharon. Sharon, her husband, Don Powell and little girl have been living in Lindsay. Although Sharon has never been well, it was indeed a shock when she passed away on Sunday. Several brothers and sisters live here in the area.

Mr. John Burgess has purchased the Coboconk Feed Mill. John lives up Haliburton way and had worked with the previous owner, John Currie. John takes over officially on Nov. 15th and local formers and others needing his services will be happy to know the feed mill is again in operation. Good Luck, John!

Mr. & Mrs. T. Cragg spent a few days in Lindsay & Peterborough last week visiting several friends and sick friends in hospital.

Mr. & Mrs. George Shepherd, & Mr. & Mrs. Wayne Downes spent a few days in Toronto last week where they attended the Full Gospel Business Men's Association Convention, held at the Four Seasons Shearton Hotel down town. Friday evening, Mrs. Ross Faulkner Mrs. Cora Lake, Mrs. Mary Hutchinson, Mrs. Lily Corson and Mrs. Sheila Lake and Mrs. Ethel Farrow attended the evening session at the Four Seasons.

Halloween was relatively quiet and not quite so many little folk were out calling.

At our house, we never had anyone collecting for U.N.-O.C.E.F. while other years money could be donated to this worthy cause. Perhaps the organization has folded.

Folks are busy these long cold evenings with various evening classes at the high schools, the bowling leagues are in full swing, and it seems most are busy as usual, so that will shorten the winter months! Fowl suppers are still prominent and some local folk report an enjoyable time at the Galloway Supper at Kinmount last Sat. night.

Congratulations to Mrs. Mary Wilkinson who celebrates her birthday this week. I won't tell her age - but she is past eighty, and a very smart hard working lady! Congratulations, Mary!

Education grants up by 10 per cent

Education grants to Ontario school boards will increase approximately 10 per cent next year, Education Minister Thomas Wells said last week.

Mr. Wells said that the amount-eligible for grant at the elementary level for 1977 will be $1,197 per pupil, an increase of 10.8 per cent over this year. The amount at the secondary level will be $1,712 per pupil, a 10 per cent increase over this year.

The Ministry, Mr. Wells said, will continue a special grant to assist school boards in metric conversion programs and will also continue a special grant of $500,000 toward community school development programs.

Mr. Wells said that the per-pupil grant for French language instruction will remain the same as this year, but he added that this will not prevent a school board from expanding its current programs or starting new ones. He said the basis of providing grants for French-language instruction will be reviewed when the present research studies on French-language instruction costs have been completed.

Grants for night and summer school have also been held to the present level. The Minister termed the move on night and summer school grants "an interim measure necessitated by the widely different interpretations of continuing education".

Mr. Wells said the increase will remain that the province will pay a total of 1.88 billion dollars in grants to school boards next year, an increase of $165 million more than this year.

Conservatives question Canadian beef policy

Victoria-Haliburton MP
William Scott, in a news release said that there is widespread interest among both producers and consumers regarding the meat situation in Canada today.

In regards to this problem
Mr. Scott has sent the attached statement by Progressive Conservative Agriculture critics John Wise and Bert Hargrave.

John Wise, P.C. agricultural critic, and Bert Har-grave P.C. beef critic, have questioned the federal government's latest action in trying to alleviate the problems caused by the United States' imposition of restrictive import quotas on Canadian and other nations' beef.

"We previously have urged the government to place a temporary embargo on beef coming into Canada from Australia and New Zealand. Compared with the first nine months of last year, Australian beef exports to Canada have increased 47 per cent (up from 51.2 million pounds last year to 75.5 million pounds this year) and New Zealand beef exports to Canada have increased 75 per cent (up from 42.1 million pounds to 73.8 million pounds).

"The government has finally responded with an announcement that beef imports, for the remainder of the year, will be restricted to 17.5 million pounds. The United States will be able to export to Canada 4.5 million pounds, New Zealand 4.8 million pounds, and Australia 8.2 million pounds. In view of the already massive influx of Oceanic beef, we question the allotment of this quota. Rather than taking strong action against Oceanic beef, it would seem that the Canadian government has chosen the course of retaliation against the Americans. Will this be the beginning of another beef war against the Americans, a war in which Canada cannot win? We hope not.

"We also question whether this action against beef imports has come to late? As preventative medicine for the future we have urged the government to implement a Canadian meat import law so that Canada will never again be the dumping ground of any nation's surplus beef. It would seem, however, that Eugene Whelan's Cabinet colleagues have chosen to keep prices as cheap as possible in order to demonstrate some success in their anti-inflation program. But in doing this, they have brought further distress to an already severely distressed producer group.
A meat import law would prevent this happening in the future.

"So far the government has refused to consider a meat import law. Rather, Whelan has envisioned a another solution to the beef problem. On October 18th, in reply to a question by Peter Elizinga, Whelan said,
'it is obvious that the beef industry needs a supply-management program.'

"We do not see the imposition of supply-management onto the beef industry as a viable solution.
Our beef producers would not be in their present predicament if it had not been for previous government interference in 1971/72

when this government encouraged greater beef production. Many people entered into beef production because of government encouragement and many people have since entered into bankruptcy because of that same government's reluctance to take effective action in protecting our beef producers from unfair competition.

"By not coming forth earlier with effective measures to deal with the flood of Oceanic beef and by conceiving supply management as the only solution to the beef producers' problems, it would seem that once again

Eugene Whelan has either abdicated his responsibility or has been outvoted and outranked by his Cabinet colleagues in protecting the Canadian beef producer.
The Department of Agriculture appears to have become only an adjunct to Industry, Trade and Commerce.

"Consequently, we urge the Minister of Industry, Trade and Commerce, Jean Cretien, and his subordinate Eugene Whelan to come forth with better solutions to the beef problem than retaliation against the Americans and supply-management.

10 commandments of bush survival

Hunting and hiking accidents increase each year despite the efforts of responsible organizations who strive to educate John Q.
Public. The Ontario Provincial Police are gravely concerned with the increase of persons who are lost or injured while hunting and hiking.

Ontario Provincial Police Commissioner Harold H.
Graham states that statistics show hunting and hiking accidents increase during morning and up to the lunch hour. After lunch, there's a sharp decrease and then the accidents rise again, reaching a high level at sunset and just before dinner time.

There is no doubt that these statistics demonstrate to some degree at least, that fatigue has and will be responsible for many bush accidents.

High protein and carbohydrate foods such as chocolate bars and cheese should be carried by hunters and hikers. Eaten during mid-morning and mid-afternoon this type of food would help restore lost energy and combat fatigue which results in accidents.

Christmas mail

Greeting cards for distant Canadian points and the United States should be mailed no later than December 13 and parcels before December 3 if they are to reach their destination for Christmas. The deadline for local delivery is December 17. Postmaster General
Jean-Jacques Blais announced today.

In making his announcement, Mr. Blais urged Canadians to mail their cards and parcels abroad no later than the specified deadline and, if possible, to get them in the mail earlier.

Greeting cards may not contain more than five words of written message to qualify for the lower third-class rate of 8 cents if they are to be mailed to destinations in Canada or the United States.
Cards to these points must be sealed.

Greeting cards for delivery outside Canada and the United States must be unsealed. They will be carried by air for 15 cents if under one ounce or by surface for 10 cents. Correspondence in sealed envelopes for these destinations must bear 20 cents postage.

To survive in the bush everyone should obey the ten commandments of bush survival. They are:

1. Tell someone where you are going and when you expect to return.
2. Carry and know how to use a map and a compass.
3. Carry emergency food, matches and good knife.
4. Check your position frequently.
5. If lost, don't panic.
6. Stay put, prepare shelter and fire.
7. Prepare three signal fires in a 60 foot triangle ready for lighting at the first sound of an aircraft.
8. Conserve your food supply and strength.
9. If you leave your shelter, blaze your trail.
10. If you are not lost but only delayed, notify the Ontario Provincial Police and your home.
